ANZAC DAY 2019

25th April, 2019

ANZAC Day, 25th April, is an important national tradition. It marks the anniversary of the first military battle fought by Australian and New Zealand forces during World War I.

ANZAC stands for Australian and New Zealand Army Corps. They landed at Gallipoli, Turkey, on 25th April, 1914. The ANZACs were met with fierce opposition from the Ottoman Turkish defenders. The campaign dragged on for 8 months. With both sides having suffered heavy casualties, more than 8000 Australian soldiers died and many were injured.

Although, the Gallipoli campaign failed in its’ military objectives, it had a lasting impact on people both at home and abroad.
